The Victor is of vital importance in correlation

Victor XXV

$67.50 special quotation to schools only

When this Victor is not in use, the horn can be placed under instrument safe and secure from danger and the cabinet can be locked to protect from dust and promiscuous use by irresponsible people.

Did you ever think of using Victor Records to illuminate your studies in Shakespeare and, in fact, all your work in English?

Our complete set of Shakespeare records from the old authentic versions will give new life to the study of the play, or lend realization to its production by the seniors.

Do you read Scott's "Ivanhoe" and "Lady of the Lake"? Wouldn't the pupils like to hear the bag-pipes and the songs of Ellen with the harp of old Allan?

Are you interested in the geography of Europe? The heart life of the different peoples of stricken Europe can be understood in no other way so clearly as through their songs.

The Victor records will bring them into your school room.

WHAT GINN AND COMPANY HAVE DONE FOR SCHOOL MUSIC

Chapter III.

THE workman is greater than his tools—the teacher is greater than the textbook; but either is handicapped without the other. Especially is this true in music texts, for Music is inspirational. It is born of the spirit, not wrought out of iron. Moods and incidents and ideals have been expressed in Music since the world began and this expression is every child's heritage. To secure it the music supervisor depends upon the publisher, the publisher upon the author. Authors of school music books must therefore compile, not create, the material they offer. Unless the selections they choose are representative and worthy of study, they should have no place in school.

In preparing the NEW EDUCATIONAL MUSIC COURSE Messrs. McLaughlin, Veazie and Gilchrist did not work alone. They enlisted, in their search for material, the services of musicians celebrated for their familiarity with music literature, and to them entrusted the consideration and choice of material. As a result one hundred and thirty-seven noted musicians and composers are represented in the New Educational Music Course, twenty-eight of these ranking among the great musicians of the world, including Palestrina, Bach, Hændel, Gluck, Haydn, Mozart, Beethoven, Schubert, Mendelssohn, and Schumann.

Educators have outlined psychology and pedagogy in their relation to music, and supervisors of school music have set the standards and agreed upon the requirements of a graded music series. With these ideals before them the authors of the New Educational Music Course prepared the series which Ginn and Company have the honor to publish. To date, November 1914, the New Educational Music Course is used in 230 of the 619 cities and towns of ten thousand inhabitants and over in the United States—more than one-third of the entire number—more than its nearest competitor by 49 cities.

Supervisors who are not familiar with the New Educational Music Course are invited to correspond with the publishers. Outlines are sent without charge—a special Outline for Grades One and Two, a Minimum Course of Study in Music for schools introducing the subject, and a General Outline for all grades—any or all will be forwarded upon request.

Teachers looking for new rote songs, charming in melody, captivating in subject matter, and strong in tonality and rhythm, should order "Primary Melodies with Piano Accompaniments". The book contains forty-six songs with accompaniments, list price twenty-five cents.

Ginn and Company have just published a new book, the INTERMEDIATE SONG READER, adapted for basal or supplementary use in Grades Five and Six. It contains many very attractive and easy two- and three-part selections. In this connection, the feature which particularly distinguishes the Intermediate Song Reader from other books is the material provided for individual part-singing. For example, studies for three trios precede each three-part song, so that nine pupils may be called upon to sing in three groups of three each, to be followed by the class collectively on the succeeding song. This is a new idea growing out of the wish of teachers to measure efficiency of pupils in music not in questions about music but in the ability of individuals to take their parts in a musical whole. Supervisors are invited to correspond with the publishers if the book described interests them.

CONCERNING THE NATIONAL SUMMER SCHOOL OF MUSIC SESSION OF 1915.

The National Summer School of Music which is conducted annually by Ginn and Company, will be held June 28th to July 23rd next at Lake Forest College in Lake Forest, the most attractive suburb on the Lake Shore north of Chicago.

An ideal outing can here be combined with the study of school music. The first week of the session is devoted to folk songs and games, and classes are held in the morning only. A week spent thus, soon after the close of the school year, will rejuvenate the supervisor and prepare for the strenuous work of the next three weeks. Register now and secure choice of rooms in the dormitories.

The Lyric Music Series

A Course in Vocal Music for the Grades

BY

ARTHUR EDWARD JOHNSTONE

— AND —

HARVEY WORTHINGTON LOOMIS

Educational Editor

William Alfred White

The study is divided into two comprehensive periods. The first four years are devoted mainly to the development of the musical sense. During the second period the attention is focused on the acquisition of definite and accurate knowledge of notation and the technical phases of music.

Great care has been exercised in the selection of material, and nothing has been included which would not stand the severest scrutiny. The standard established for the Lyric Music Series requires complete harmony of sentiment between words and music, and perfection of rhythmic stress. Vocal quality of the lyrics also has been a requirement. High notes occur only with vowel sounds having a broad singing tone; harsh consonants have been avoided; and songs in rapid tempo carry words easily articulated.

The books contain characteristic songs from more than twenty representative peoples, including Italian, French, German, Hungarian, Scandinavian, Austrian, Russian, Polish, Spanish, Greek, Irish, Scotch, Welsh, Manx, American, Norse, Icelandic, Old English, Chinese, American Indian, and American Negro. Both modern compositions and folk-songs are included.

The Lyric Music Primer, for 1st and 2nd grades. Cloth, 128 pp . . . $.25

The Lyric Music First Reader, for 3rd and 4th grades. Cloth, 160 pp .30

The Lyric Music Second Reader, for 5th and 6th grades. Cloth, 192 pp .40

The Lyric Music Third Reader, for 7th and 8th grades. Cloth, 288 pp. .50

A Teachers' Manual to accompany each book.

DRAMATIC GAMES AND DANCES

FOR LITTLE CHILDREN

By Caroline Crawford

THE interest shown in the development of the dramatic instinct in children as a legitimate part of their early education will lead teachers in kindergartens and primary grades to welcome Miss Crawford's new book as the first to treat the dramatic game as an art form, and to show how it can be used in the development of the child's earliest art expression.

Beautifully illustrated, Quarto cloth, $1.50 net.

By the same author, to be published early in 1915.

THE RHYTHMS OF CHILDHOOD

This new book will contain twenty-seven different forms of the activities of child life, recorded in the rhythms which are given. These are written to represent patterned mood rather than mere external activity.

A selection of folk music, similar in mood and type, will be placed opposite every rhythmic form. Children can then begin the study and appreciation of music as a language by the acquaintance of simple but beautiful forms which express moods and activities akin to their own. Beautifully Illustrated. Price $1.50 net.
